

Professor Tamang was honored by the Society for Ethnopharmacology, India.

Professor Dr. Jyoti Prakash Tamang, Senior Professor and current Vice-Chancellor (officiating), received the Special Recognition Award for his scientific work from the Society for Ethnopharmacology, India at Chintan Bhawan in Gangtok on November 15, 2024. The award was presented to Professor Tamang by Shri G.T. Dhungel, the Minister for Health and Family Welfare and Culture of Sikkim, in the presence of Shri V. Sahay, Additional Secretary and Financial Advisor of the Ministry of Science and Technology, as well as the President and Secretary of the Society for Ethnopharmacology, India and the Director of IBSD.

This achievement marked a significant moment for Sikkim University to gain recognition on an international stage.

